NEW MP MATT SMITH MEETS COUNCIL

Council catch up with Matt Smith

Council was pleased to meet with Matt Smith, the newly elected Federal Member for Leichhardt, shortly after the finalisation of vote counting confirmed his victory in the 2025 federal election. Mr. Smith, a long-term Cairns resident and former Cairns Taipans basketball player, brings a deep understanding of the region's unique challenges and opportunities.

During our discussions, we emphasised the critical need for continued federal support in key areas such as housing, employment, and economic development. Mr. Smith acknowledged these priorities, highlighting his commitment to addressing the pressing needs of Far North Queensland communities.

Council looks forward to a collaborative relationship with Mr. Smith to ensure the delivery of these commitments and to advocate for additional resources that will foster sustainable development and improved living standards across our communities.

NAIDOC Week 2025 in Napranum: Celebrating Culture, Community, and Legacy

From Monday 7 July to Saturday 12 July 2025, the Napranum community will come together to celebrate NAIDOC Week, embracing the national theme: "The Next Generation: Strength, Vision & Legacy." This week-long celebration marks the 50th anniversary of NAIDOC Week, honoring the enduring strength of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and the pivotal role of youth in shaping the future.

WORDS FROM CEO

It was with mixed feelings Council farewelled painter Gerry Neumann after 10 years' service to council and the community. As a token of Council's appreciation for Gerry's efforts he was presented a unique gift to remember his time in Napranum.
Gerry was thrilled to receive a spear made by his friend and colleague Uncle Billy Daniels.

Jubilee Christian College

Council hosted a morning tea for the students from Jubilee Christian College from Atherton who were in community last week supporting Kluthuthu Christian College. I was delighted to be able to give them a brief introduction to community and it was great to see the students enjoying spending time in the Indigenous Knowledge Centre particularly viewing historical photos of community.

Council hosted the Board of Community Enterprise Queensland (CEQ) who manage the Napranum IBIS store as one of its 30 stores throughout the Torres Strait, Northern Peninsula Area, and mainland Aboriginal remote communities.
This was a valuable opportunity for Councillors to provide feedback on the Napranum store and explore opportunities on working closely to support initiatives for community.
The CEQ Board encourages local community members to use the in-store feedback system on ways they can improve service and operations.

Foundation Day

Last week we celebrated Foundation Day to commemorate community history and to remember the move from the old mission at Spring Creek to today's current location, here at Jessica Point.
Whilst we only had a small crowd on the day, I encourage community members to visit the IKC to learn more about Napranum history and search through the various historical photos.

Indigenous LG Drinking Water Symposium

Last month the Indigenous Local Government Drinking Water Symposium was held in Weipa at which water operators from Queensland's Indigenous Councils, Weipa Town Authority and RIO Tinto came together with government and industry representatives.
Operators were provided the opportunity to discuss the challenges of delivering safe drinking water, and yarn about what is happening in other communities, learning and developing together.
It was a great event with many highlights including our Water Team hosting the symposium participants at the Napranum Water Treatment Plant with everyone coming away very impressed at how well maintained and organised the treatment plant is.
Whilst I was only able to attend the first morning of the event I was honoured and proud to be able to hear Peo Wigness give a presentation on the Life of a new Water Operator. Supported by his colleagues, Peo outlined the Napranum Water Treatment process and his role as a water operator, doing himself and community proud. Well Done, Peo!

Far North Queensland Best Tasting Tap Water

As part of the Drinking Water Symposium a best tasting tap water competition was held. This is a prestigious event in the water industry that is designed to be a bit of fun, but truly recognise the water operators that are providing water services 24/7, 365 days a year. While we were quietly confident, it was a big thrill when Napranum was announced the winner.

As winner of the Far North Queensland IXOM Best Tasting Tap Water Competition, we have been invited to submit a water sample in the Queensland state best tasting tap water competition later in the year.

The win was a fitting tribute to the effort our water team puts in every day.

On behalf of Council we would like to say..

Congratulations!

to our Water Team.

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT

Marie Pitt's Inspiring Journey to Better Health and New Horizons

In the heart of Weipa and Napranum, there's a familiar face walking the paths and putting in the hard yards at the local gym — Marie Pitt. Her journey to better health has not only transformed her lifestyle but also opened the door to new career opportunities, resulting in her recent acceptance into a position with Rio Tinto.

Marie's story is one of determination, and transformation. Like many in the community, she reached a point where she knew change was necessary — not just to feel better day to day, but to take control of her future.

"It started with small changes," Marie says. "I wanted to feel better in myself, and I knew that meant looking at how I was treating myself."

She began learning about nutrition — not just what to eat, but why certain foods are better for the body. With curiosity and commitment, Marie explored how different foods fuel energy, aid in recovery, and contribute to overall wellness. This new knowledge helped her make better food choices.

Exercise quickly became the next pillar of her transformation. Whether it was lifting weights or attending the local gym with friends and family, Marie began incorporating regular physical activity into her routine. She also took to the walking paths that wind through Weipa and Napranum, using the beautiful natural surroundings as a motivating backdrop for her health journey.

"I feel like at one point I hit rock bottom and life was pretty hard. I had to make a choice to pull myself out of it" she admits, "I decided to start looking after myself. Doing exercise, walking and going to the gym. It was hard but it became something I looked forward to."

The changes didn't happen overnight, but Marie's consistent effort paid off. Not only did she reach her personal health goals — improving her fitness, gaining energy, and building confidence — but her new mindset and physical readiness also made her a strong candidate for professional opportunities.

Her hard work was rewarded when she was offered a position with Rio Tinto — a milestone she is proud of and deeply grateful for.

"This journey showed me that when you take care of yourself, everything else starts to fall into place," she shares.

Marie's story is more than just a personal success — it's a testament to the power of resilience and community support. By embracing healthy living, educating herself, and staying committed, she has set a strong example for others looking to make positive changes in their lives.

Her journey is a reminder that with the right mindset and a little support, anything is possible.

Congratulations, Marie! Your community is proud of you, and your story will inspire many more to take the first step on their own path to better health and new opportunities.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITIES CULTURE & ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

What is your name and/or nickname? Candice Jenkins

Where do you call home? Born in Mackay but relocated to Clermont in 2009 where our family grew for 14yrs before moving to Weipa in 2023.
Who is your mob? My family is Aboriginal & Sth Sea Islander, from Solomon & Ambae Islands.

What do you do for Council? Manager Community Services.
What made you apply for the job at council? My passion and interest in communities with over 11 years Local Government experience.

What do you feel you bring to the role? Knowledge and experience in community development, ability to understand community needs and build capacity.

What would you like to have achieved over the next year? Establish relationships, identify needs and implement initiatives.

How do you overcome challenges in your work? Communication, planning and seek feedback.

What do you enjoy doing outside of work? Spending time with my family, fishing and camping.

What is your favourite food? Anything seafood!!!

If you were stranded on an island and allowed to have one person there to help you survive, who would it be? My husband, he's very knowledgeable on the land, can hunt and is basically my 'David Attenborough'.

What is the best piece of advice you have ever been given? You only know what you know, so always seek to learn more and grow!

If you could recommend a place for people to visit, what would it be and why? Paronella Park, absolutely captivating structures and grounds that take you back in time. A must see!

What would you like to be known/remembered for? Hardwork, honesty, kindness and absolute LOVE for fishing!

If you see Candice around please feel free to stop and have a yarn. She is is looking forward to meeting more of community

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITIES CULTURE & ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Hi everyone,

My name is Bulu Davui, and I'm excited to introduce myself as the new Community and Social Justice Manager with Napranum Aboriginal Shire Council.

I've recently moved from Cairns to take on this role and am really looking forward to working alongside the community. A big part of my job is to lead the Napranum Justice Reinvestment Program, which is all about supporting community-led solutions to reduce contact with the justice system and build stronger, safer futures for our young people and families. I'm here to listen, learn, and work together with you all—so please come have a yarn if you see me around.

What made you apply for the job at council? I've been looking to move back to Napranum for a while and I saw that this job involved empowering community to identify the best way to keep local community members out of the justice system by utilising the strengths of the community to develop programs for Napranum.

What do you feel you bring to the role? Experience working in the justice system for nearly 20 years within government and community services. Mixed with relationships within the community from my family living in community for some time.

A little bit about your self? Last worked for Napranum Council more then 20 years ago at the previous Youth centre (PCYC) as the sport and rec officer. Working on youth and sporting activities for the community.

What do you enjoy doing outside of work? Brisbane Broncos fan, enjoy fishing, getting involved in fitness groups and spending time with family.

What would you like to have achieved over the next year: Helping community to have their views heard and having those view put into action on the ground.

If you see Bulu around please feel free to stop and have a yarn. He is keen to introduce his service to community

EVENTS

Napranum Foundation Day: Honouring Their Journey, Their Strength

Napranum Foundation Day is a time of pride, remembrance, and community—a day to honour the long journey of the Napranum people, from the early mission days to the strong, self-governing community they are today.

Their story begins in 1898, when Moravian missionary Edwin Brown established the Weipa Mission at Spring Creek. It was the second of four missions created by the government to address the mistreatment of Aboriginal people working in the beche-de-mer and pearling industries. The land, known as Waypa or Waypanden by Ancestors, is believed to mean "fighting ground" or the wider area near Spring Creek—a name that holds deep cultural and spiritual meaning.

In 1932, due to disease and poor access, the mission was relocated to Jessica Point. Buildings were moved piece by piece, and life continued under mission rule. During World War II, residents were told to prepare to "go bush" in case of a Japanese invasion—their loyalty questioned in their own land. Despite this, many Napranum men served with honour and later stood proudly as veterans, even forming a guard of honour for Prime Minister Menzies in 1958.

By the 1960s, the mining boom brought dramatic changes. Living conditions on the mission drew national attention, but the community stood firm. When the government and Comalco attempted to relocate the residents, they refused to leave Jessica Point. They built homes, took up employment, and defended their right to remain on country.

In 1966, the government renamed the area "Weipa South," but the community rejected that name. Instead, they chose Napranum, a word combining two languages: "Nap" from Trotj, meaning "meeting place," and "pranum" from Thaynakwith, meaning "meeting of people." Together, Napranum means "meeting place of the people."

That name, and everything it represents, is what Foundation Day celebrates.

Napranum Foundation Day is more than a reflection on the past—it is a celebration of spirit, resilience, and community strength. It is about the children growing up proud, the Elders who continue to guide, and the families who have carried the community forward.

Happy Foundation Day, Napranum!
May the journey continue with pride and strength.

EXPRESSION OF INTEREST FROM LOCAL RESIDENTS OF NAPRANUM FOR THE JUSTICE REINVESTMENT COMMITTEE

What is Justice Reinvestment?

The government's commitment to justice reinvestment acknowledges that local people understand the solutions to the issues that affect them. Justice reinvestment is a long-term, community-led approach that aims to prevent crime, address the drivers of contact with the justice system, and improve justice outcomes for your community.

Justice Reinvestment involves empowering community to identify the best way to prevent and reduce contact with the criminal justice system; using the strengths of community, cultural knowledge, lived experience and data to develop initiatives and see what works over time. Shifting decision making power and responsibility to the community level.

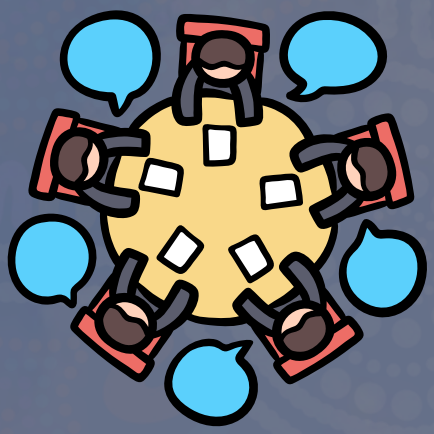

The Napranum Justice Reinvestment Committee will provide advice to Council to guide decisions relating to the implementation of the National Justice Reinvestment Initiative. This will ensure community input and feedback is a part of the delivery on the ground of the Napranum Justice Reinvestment Initiative.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A PART OF THE JUSTICE REINVESTMENT COMMITTEE FOR NAPRANUM?

Are you a Napranum resident that:

- Is interested in working with community members and stakeholders to ensure that the Napranum community's views and concerns are heard and are part of guiding the Napranum Justice Reinvestment Initiative.
- Can commit to attending monthly meetings
- is 18 years or older

If this sounds like you, we encourage you to register your interest by filling in the application on the next page and handing it in at the Napranum Aboriginal Shire Council office or email your EOI to: bulu.davui@napranum.qld.gov.au

Participation in Weipa Junior Netball Competition

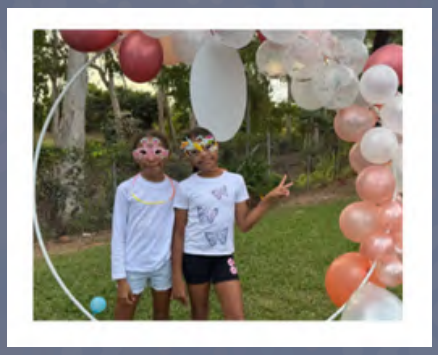

Over a 16-week period, our Young Achievers proudly participated in the Weipa Junior Netball Competition. Throughout the season, the girls showed incredible commitment, determination, and a strong willingness to learn and grow their netball skills.

More than just the game, it was about teamwork, confidence, and having fun with peers—and they certainly did just that!

The season ended on a high with a fantastic presentation night. Our girls showed up in full spirit, celebrating with laughter, dancing, and lots of cheering for their teammates.

Well done, girls! We are so proud of your efforts both on and off the court.

🌿 On Country Learnings 🌿

On Monday afternoon, a group of boys joined Uncle Ernest Madua Jnr at Gonbung Beach foraging through the bush and looking for big leaf tree suitable for spear handles. Uncle Ernest Madua Jnr spoke to the boys about the importance of safety when walking through the bush and keeping country clean.

GAMBLING HARM AWARENESS WEEK 2025

Gambling Harm Awareness Week 2025

Queensland's Gambling Harm Awareness Week (GHAW) is held from 21–27 July 2025.

This annual initiative increases awareness of gambling harm, safer gambling practices and the help that is available to people negatively affected by gambling.

The theme for 2025 is 'Protecting young people from gambling harm – it starts with you.' This encourages conversations with young people about the potential harms associated with gambling.

To raise awareness during GHAW, we have produced a number of digital resources that can be downloaded here. More information to promote the week is also available at Gambling Help Queensland.

CORPORATE SERVICES

This week the Napranum Early Childhood Centre celebrated NAIDOC a week early to include the Pre-Kindy & Kindy classes that are away during school holidays. This year's theme is The Next Generation: Strength, Vision & Legacy and is super special for us here at the NECC as we are helping shape the next generation of young leaders within the community.

We kicked off our NAIDOC week with the amazing Lowana Charger & Marvin Rissa from Rio Tinto coming in to collage the Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander flags with the children, they also brought some goodie bags! On Tuesday we welcomed Thanikwithi Elder, Uncle Steven Hall who came and showed us all how to weave with palm leaves, the kids were so amazed at the bowl he made from scratch! Wednesday we had the beautiful Ebony Doyle & Fiona Wirrer-George visit who taught us how to sing an Alngith song written by Alngith Elder, Eddie John, called Yiki Yikim. And for our Pre-Kindy & Kindy classes last day of school we had all our babies and toddlers come up to our yard where we had morning tea with a few Elders, Uncle Steven Hall, Ethel Pitt & Kay, our children sang the Yiki Yikim song and the Elders sang along. We'd like to thank Lowana and Marvin from Rio Tinto, Uncle Steven, Ebony & Fiona, Noella from NADS for bringing in the Elders and all the Elders that participated in celebrating with us this year for our NAIDOC Week.

WESTERN CAPE COLLEGE

Guiding Education, Strengthening Connection
The Napranum Local Community Education Board (LCEB) is made up of community members, Elders, parents, Traditional Owners, and school staff who work together to help shape the education experience for Napranum students at Western Cape College. It's about making sure local voices are part of school decisions—because when culture and community knowledge are embedded, our kids feel more connected and confident in their learning.

The LCEB meets each term, usually once a month. Meetings are held locally in Napranum and give members the chance to reflect, plan, and raise ideas or concerns from the community. The conversations are always proactive, grounded in real experiences and practical goals, with the wellbeing of our young people at the centre.

The board's work is guided by six themes that were identified by Napranum as key components to better outcomes:

1. Stronger School–Community Relationships
   Building stronger links between the school, families, and community members.
2. Family & Parent Engagement
   Making sure families feel welcomed and involved in school life.
3. Cultural Competence of Staff
   Helping teachers understand and respect Napranum culture, values, and ways of learning.
4. Holistic Education
   Supporting students' emotional, social, and cultural wellbeing—not just academics.
5. Student Engagement
   Creating programs that support all learners, including those who need extra help staying engaged.
6. Creating a Culturally Safe School
   Ensuring the school environment reflects and respects Napranum culture and identity.

Every decision made in the LCEB has one clear purpose: to make Western Cape College better for our children and stronger for our community. It's about creating a school that reflects local identity and culture. If you're interested in learning more or getting involved, please reach out to one of the LCEB members or the school. Your voice matters—and it helps shape the future for our kids.

LCEB Members – Fran Wymarra (WCC), Karlie Roseblade, Trisha Schuh, Eileen Ludwick, Vide Freiberg (WCC), Ernest Madua, Vincent Barkley.
Meeting Guest – Chris Brown Nous Group.

Attendance, Adventures, and Afternoon Visits

It's been a busy and exciting month! We're proud to share that 40 students achieved 100% attendance this term — a fantastic milestone for our community.

I've been visiting Napranum community and PCYC on Monday afternoons and Wednesday mornings. Starting next term, I will be adjusting my visits to both Napranum community and PCYC on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, as well as Friday mornings.

This month, our Year 5 camp was a real highlight. Over two great days, students and teachers came together to learn, collaborate, and grow. The students worked hard and demonstrated outstanding leadership skills throughout the camp.

Looking forward to what next term brings!
