KJB CLEANING SERVICE OPENS IN NAPRANUM

Homegrown Business: KJB Cleaning Service (Napranum)

After time away from the workforce, Krystle Booth was ready to build something of her own—flexible enough to fit around family commitments and strong enough to serve community needs. With determination (and her sister Natasha Booth by her side), she launched KJB Cleaning Service, a Napranum-owned, family-run business delivering reliable, high-standard cleaning for local workplaces and community facilities.

KJB Cleaning Service is already off to a successful start, showcasing the value of local enterprise powered by local people. If you're looking for dependable cleaning with a community-first approach, reach out to Krystle to discuss availability and services. For more information see page 20.

WATER METER READINGS

- COUNCIL'S WATER OPERATIONS TEAM WILL BE READING WATER METERS ACROSS THE COMMUNITY THIS MONTH.
- METERS ARE USUALLY LOCATED JUST INSIDE YOUR FRONT FENCE, OFTEN IN A GREEN BOX.
- IF YOU HAVE DOGS, PLEASE RESTRAIN THEM BRIEFLY TO HELP OUR OFFICERS COMPLETE READINGS SAFELY.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR COOPERATION AND SUPPORT.

WORDS FROM CEO

Last week Council hosted another community meeting at the Napranum foreshore which again was an opportunity for Council to listen to community voices.

Following numerous requests at previous community meetings, we organised representatives from the Department of Housing to attend to listen to areas of community concern.

The representatives from Housing were able answer many of the questions and they followed up with several community members the following day. It was a great opportunity for community members to have a conversation directly with Housing.

It was also very positive to have Housing commit to attending future meetings.

- Mayor Chevathen, Cr Madua and myself will attend a Summit with other first nations council's and the Queensland Police Service in early October. Council intends raising a number of issues including regulation of noise complaints, dangerous driving and Council's application to introduce a carriage limit, amending the current Alcohol Management Plan.

- Council will commence a review of its 5-year Corporate Plan 2022-2027. The corporate plan is the overarching strategic document that sets the priorities, goals and direction for Council's operations. With the recent turnover of some of Council's Departmental Directors and the corporate plan review about to commence, Council, adopted an interim organisational (departmental) structure.

The Interim Structure will see:
Reintroduction of the Family Services Department as the Family and Human Services Department (NADS, NECC and Human Resources functions).

Combining the Building & Instructure and Environment & Sustainability Departments to create a new Operations Department.

Corporate Services Department will remain with the core finance, reception/post office, stores, and governance functions.

Community, Culture and Economic Development does not change, continuing to focus on community and economic development outcomes.

HOUSING: NAPRANUM COMMUNITY MEETING

Thank you for our invitation to attend the Napranum Community Meeting, Wednesday 17th September. Thank you also, for your hospitality and the opportunity to share a delicious meal with you.

During the meeting we heard your concerns about noisy parties and the impact these have on the wellbeing of Elders in the Community and community members.

The Department of Housing is committed to supporting you to create a safe and peaceful community. As a tenant and community member, you share in the responsibility to help maintain harmony in your neighbourhood.

Here are a few questions we were asked and our responses for you.

Q) What's Expected of You in your tenancy?
A) Be a Good Neighbour: Respect others, promote harmony, and follow your tenancy agreement.
Avoid Nuisance Behaviour: Keep noise down and avoid disturbing others.
Shared Responsibility: You are responsible for the behaviour of your household and all visitors.

Q) What are Antisocial Behaviour or Nuisance Behaviour examples, and what does Housing do?
A) We have three levels of antisocial, nuisance behaviour that include:
1. General Nuisance Complaint: Minor issues like loud music or noise.
What Housing does in response: Following investigation we may issue warnings or breach notices. Three or more incidents in 12 months may lead to eviction.
2. Serious Behaviour: Repeated harassment or major disturbances.
What Housing does in response: Following investigation, we may issue a breach notice after the first incident. Further breaches may result in eviction.
3. Dangerous or Severe Behaviour: Illegal activities, violence, or threats to safety.
What Housing does in response: We have a zero tolerance approach that following investigation may lead to immediate eviction.

Q) How do you make a Complaint?
A If you experience a disturbance in your neighbourhood, you should report noisy parties and antisocial behaviour to the Police on 131 444, if someone is injured or it is an emergency, please contact 000. Police can also make a report to Housing about antisocial activity and noisy parties.

You can contact the Napranum Housing Service Centre Team by:
Calling into the Housing Service Centre at 320 Wa Tyne Street, Napranum, or Email: FNHHWeipaHub@housing.qld.gov.au or
Telephone: Colleena on 0428 233 108 or Stacey on 0436 603 407 to report any noisy parties or antisocial activity.
For all maintenance enquiries and reports please contact 1300 738 616

Q) What Happens if you make a complaint or, if there is a complaint made about you?
A) We ensure our investigation will be a:
Fair Investigation Process: You'll have a chance to respond to the complaints made with us.
Evidence-Based Decisions: Our actions are based on clear evidence like photos or witness statements, reports to Police.
Transparency: You'll be informed of the process and outcomes.

Q) How do we manage and investigate complaints?
A) We investigate complaints from you through:
Prevention and Support: We'll help tenants understand their responsibilities and connect them to support services if needed.
Fair and Proportional Responses: Our actions are based on the seriousness of the behaviour.
Zero Tolerance for Dangerous Behaviour: Violence or illegal activities will result in immediate eviction.

Q) What are the possible consequences when we confirm the complaint?
A) A combination of consequences could include issuing · Warnings and Breach Notices: For minor or serious issues.
· Eviction: For persistent or severe antisocial behaviour.
· Support: Help is available to address the causes of antisocial behaviour.

By sharing this information and the link to the Policy, we hope you can balance your rights and your responsibilities as a Tenant in the Napranum Community.

Our Goal is to work with you and Council so that you can access support to sustain your housing and enjoy a peaceful environment.

Need Help or More Information?
You can reach out to the Napranum Housing Team at 320 Wa Tyne Street, Napranum or Email:
FNHHWeipaHub@housing.qld.gov.au or Telephone: Colleena on 0428 233 108 or Stacey on 0436 603 407

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

What is your name and/or nickname?
Chelsea

What is your traditional clan group?
Mum is from the Torres Strait Islands and I was born in Townsville but born and raised in Napranum/Weipa.

How long have you been with Council?
3 years in total with a 1 year break in between.

What do you do for Council?
I am a Group Leader in the Daycare

What inspired you to join the team here?
I've been here since I finished school and I love working with children. The changes you are able to make for them. The children's voices and opinions it makes it all worth it.

How do you overcome challenges in your work?
I remember that I'm still learning. I feel like the older I get the more experiences I have it allows for me to learn. So I write things down, go over it, understand it. And I have a strong support system, someone to talk to and go over things with.

What do you like to do outside of work time?
Rest 🙂 I have a 2month old so a lot of rest but beach dinners, sunsets and family time.

What is your favourite food and why?
Coconut Curry Chicken + Rice

What is the best piece of advice you have been given?
Never give up even when things get hard and learn to set boundaries between your personal and professional life.

If you were stranded on a deserted Island what would you want to have with you?
1. Food 2. Water 3. My partner

What would you like to be known/remembered for?
Making a change for the children. To have impacted the children I teach in a positive way. This is where it starts then it will lead into their teenage years and then onto their adult years. They are the next generation so I want to start here.

Congratulations

Our Children Our Future Award - Pormpuraaw and Napranum. SafeKids Far North Qld – Act for Kids The SafeKids Program in Far North Qld was created through the advocacy of the traditional owners inviting Act for Kids to establish the service which gives their staff a genuine sense of executing their cultural responsibilities within a therapeutic and cultural framework that empowers staff and the children and families they work with. From the outset, Bessie Holroyd and Rebecca Luta as community members were employed and involved in facilitating community reference groups to ensure the service developed was responsive to the needs and nuances of each community to maximise community buy in. Across the whole of Act for Kids, the team in Pormpuraaw and Napranum have maintained the highest staff retention with many working in the program for more than a decade reflecting the uniqueness of the staff being local and needing to have connections and strong relationships across the community and with the children they support. The Safe house provides a safe and nurturing home for kids under child safety to stay safely in community and allows kids under child safety who have been living a long way from home to come back to community and stay connected with their family, culture and country.

WCCCA Community Visit to Napranum – Services, Support and Cultural Connection

WCCCA held one of its regular community visits at the Suzie Madua Hall on Tuesday 16th September. During the visit, Loyla Chevathen (Chair of WCCCA the Trust) and Constance Port (Chair, Northern Sub-Regional Trust & Coordinating Committee) stopped in at the IKC Maryann Coconut Library. Loyla shared her appreciation for the history and cultural displays available for the public to enjoy.

Constance outlined WCCCA's quarterly outreach program to communities including Napranum, Mapoon, Aurukun, New Mapoon and Hope Vale, with the next Napranum visit scheduled for December.

What community members can access during a WCCCA visit

White Goods support: Apply for essential household items.

Information & enquiries: Ask questions and receive guidance about available assistance.

Education bursaries: Apply for bursaries to support children's schooling.

WCCCA's visibility within Napranum makes accessing support more convenient for residents and helps strengthen connections across community.

We encourage everyone to keep an eye out for December visit details and to attend, ask questions, and apply for support where eligible.

Western Cape College NAIDOC Celebration – IKC on Show

Western Cape College invited the Napranum IKC Maryann Coconut Library to its 2025 NAIDOC Celebration to share cultural information and history, promote IKC services, and run activities for students. It was a vibrant day with many services hosting stalls and hands-on cultural activities—from Napranum PCYC's damper making to PAL (Parents and Learning) beading and a local Napranum book show.

Strong Engagement Across Campuses

Mapoon Campus students spent time at the IKC stall and showed keen interest in the activities. One student suggested hosting the IKC stall at the Mapoon School in future—a great idea to extend the reach of cultural and literacy engagement.

Thanks and Acknowledgements

It was a fantastic turnout filled with enthusiasm, learning and cultural sharing. NASC and the IKC extend sincere thanks to Principal Dan Tonon, the Deputy Principal, college staff, seniors, Year 11 students and all contributors for hosting a wonderful WCC NAIDOC Event 2025. We look forward to collaborating again next year.

Learning Through Making

One of the most popular activities was creating small stick figures using paddle pop sticks, pipe cleaners and eye stickers. The craft was a springboard for conversations about NAIDOC, culture, respect and identity. Students demonstrated strong knowledge of NAIDOC's importance and how it is recognised and taught at WCC.

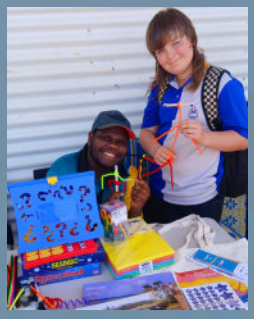

Connections and Collaboration
Throughout the day, WCC Principal Dan Tonon moved through stalls interviewing participants about NAIDOC—adding excitement and student engagement. IKC representatives also connected with Darren Wall (DATSIP) and met representatives from the Northern Queensland Primary Health Network and Griffith University, who expressed interest in supporting community and visiting the Maryann Coconut Library.

Culture, Food and Performance
Attendees enjoyed traditional foods provided by Western Cape College and watched cultural performances by Rhonda Parry and her team, Kluthuthu Christian College, Western Cape College dancers, and the Mapoon Dancers—a highlight that brought energy, colour and pride to the day.

INDIGITAL MAPOON VISIT

Earlier this year at the Australian Rural Leadership Foundation Graduation in Canberra, I met Mikaela Jade, Founder and CEO of Indigital — a company using augmented reality to share Indigenous stories, language, and culture through technology.
Mikaela mentioned her visit to Napranum for the Symposium, bringing eight new laptops for our Elders, and invited me to attend the Indigital Workshops in Napranum and Mapoon.

Last week, Cassandra Rowe (Mikaela's sister) and the Indigital team visited the Napranum IKC before travelling to Mapoon, where I joined them to see their work in action. It was inspiring to see Mapoon community members so engaged and supportive, with many expressing a desire for more collaboration between NASC and Mapoon.

The team also filmed their journey, highlighting Country, water, and land management for future digital storytelling. Working with Jason Jia and Kylie Mills from Mapoon, we plan to continue building connections through digital technology, culture, and storytelling.
"This way, we can embrace this digital tech world together." – Jason Jia
A big thank you to everyone who made this journey possible — from Napranum to Canberra and on to Mapoon.

WESTERN CAPE COLLEGE – NAIDOC WEEK CELEBRATIONS

In the first week of September, Napranum PCYC joined Western Cape College's NAIDOC Week to celebrate 'the Next Generation: Strength, Vision & Legacy'. Throughout the week, our Club and Culture team attend lunchtime breaks and facilitated a variety of traditional indigenous games with each year level, playing many of the games in their traditional form. At the community day on the Thursday, Napranum PCYC hosted a damper making activity and enjoyed teaching history and hands-on skills to the students. The cultural dancing performances were true highlight as they showcased the passion and commitment of our young leaders. It was an honour to included in this event alongside our Elders and the next generation.

PCYC NAPRANUM

DUKE OF ED – ADVENTUROUS JOURNEY

In the first week of the September school holidays, Maurice Brumby and Troy Hudson travelled to the Bornhoffen PCYC Camp in the Numinbah Valley in South East Queensland as part of their Duke of Ed bronze award.

Troy and Maurice have committed their time over the past six months, to working towards their individually chosen goals involving voluntary service, skill building and physical recreation. On the way to achieving these goals, Maurice has recently obtained his provisional driver's licence and Troy successfully won his boxing fight at the bi-annual Weipa Fight Night in July.

The Adventurous Journey section of The Duke of Ed encourages you to explore the outdoors, gain a sense of adventure and learn about the environment. Over the course of five days, Troy and Maurice completed the following:

- Day 1 introduced navigation basics, meal preparation and equipment handling.
- Day 2 involved a 5k hike with an overnight camp, utilising navigational skills.
- Day 3 was a rest day, with a morning return to camp and a brief outing.
- On Days 4 and 5, they will lead four legs of the 10 checkpoints on a longer hike.

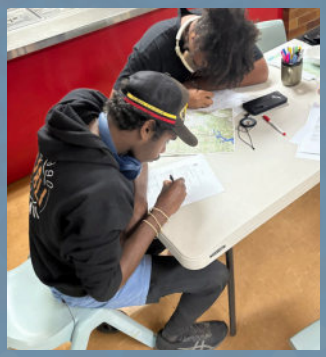

We are so proud of our boys, who are learning new skills, demonstrating commitment, connection and resilience. Troy and Maurice are true role models for our young youth in what you can achieve if you are committed to your goals.

If you or anyone you know is interested in learning more about the Duke of Ed program at Napranum PCYC, please contact Senior Constable Emma Wallis on emma.wallis@pcyc.org.au or drop into our After Dark session on Tuesdays & Thursdays 6.00-9.00pm. The Duke of Ed program is available to all youth aged between 14-24 years old.

WOLVERTON TRIPS

Over two separate weekends in September, 25 of our Napranum youth ventured to the remote Wolverton Station, a cattle station spanning 70,000 hectares just south of Weipa to participate in the Swift Youth Program. Over the course of three days, the participants had the opportunity to work with the horses and develop a keen awareness of body language and non-verbal communication in themselves and others whilst experiencing all the wonders of a working cattle station including a muster. At Wolverton, the health of the land, animals and people are all deeply interconnected, a meaningful message for our youth. In addition to the equine assisted learning, there was plenty of time for fun...participants enjoyed spending time cooling off in the dam and cruising around on paddleboats, canoes and stand-up paddleboats. The third and final Wolverton Trip is taking place from the 10th-12th October 2025 and is open to 12-20 year olds. Please contact Acting Sergeant Mick King on 0438 297 788 for more information.

FAMILY & HUMAN SERVICES

The Napranum Early Childhood Centre (NECC) have recently welcomed a few new friendly faces to our team!

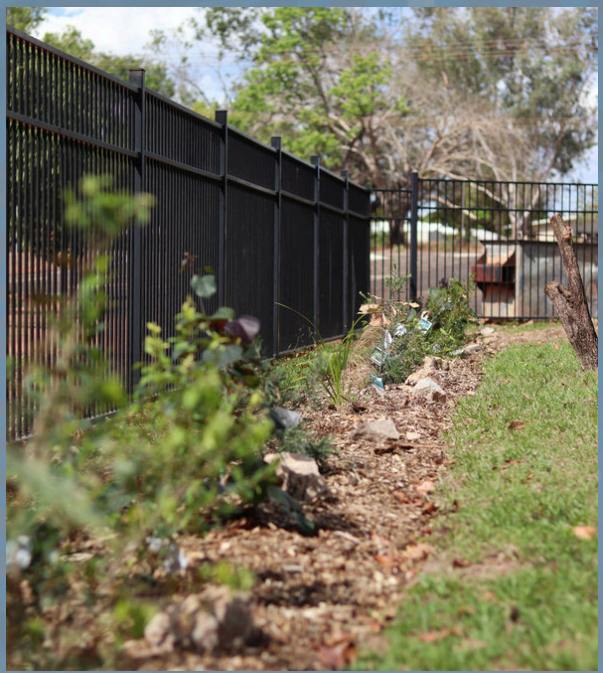

We have Bevan Gordon who is our new Groundskeeper/Handyman, he has been such a delight to work with so far and is loving his new role.

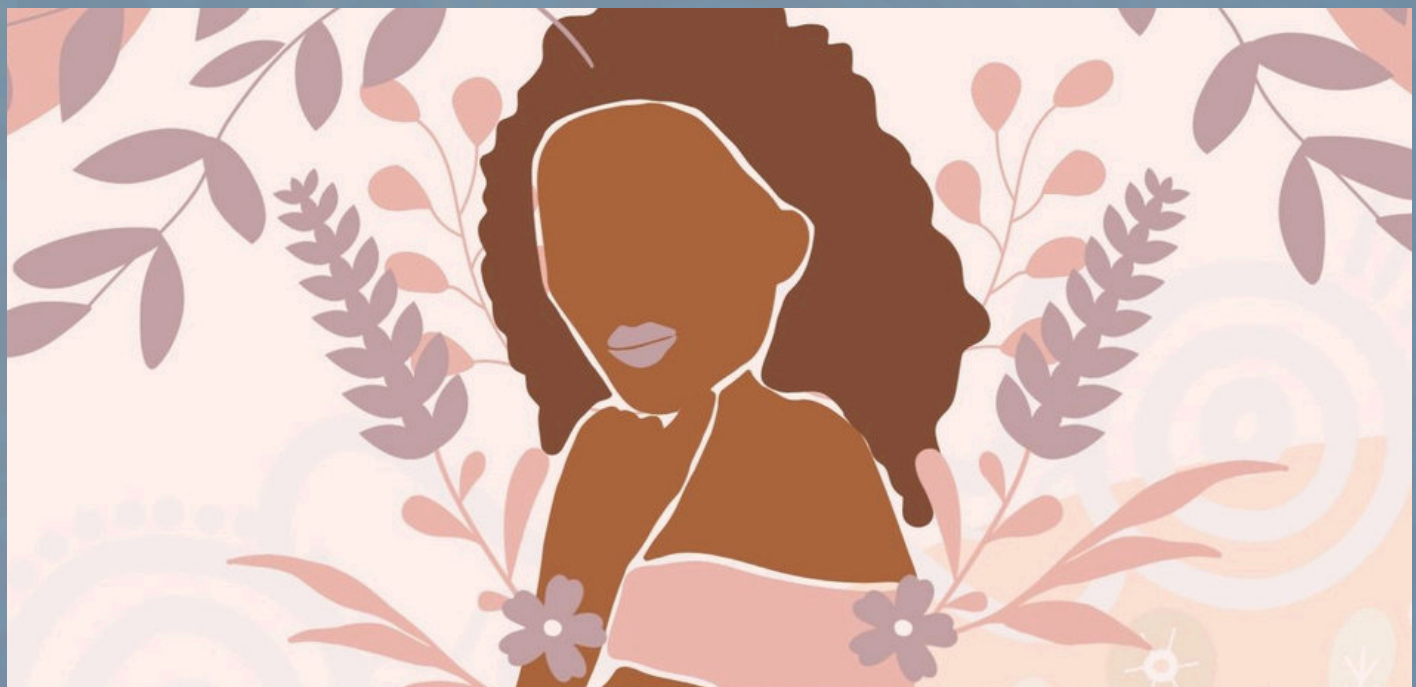

Chelsea Levi-Gobbey is our new Group Leader in our Yarr A (Toddlers) Room, the children have loved her presence in the room and we can't thank her enough for all the efforts she puts in her room and in her new role.

Karen Coconut is our newly appointment NECC Cleaner- since her arrival the Centre has never been cleaner

Cultural Space Refresh at NECC!
The Napranum Early Childhood Centre (NECC) has used a portion of its Kindy Uplift funding to refresh our Cultural Space, located beside both the Alandhak and Thunnganh Rooms.
We're so happy with the final result — it's looking beautiful and filled with meaning! There are still a few more upgrades to come before we host a special opening to celebrate this space with our families and community.

WESTERN CAPE COLLEGE

NAIDOC WEEK

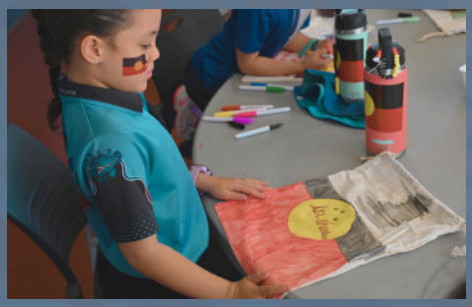

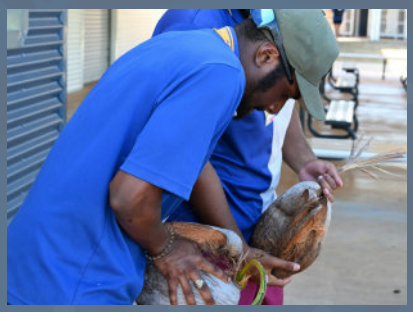

From 1–4 September, Western Cape College proudly hosted our annual NAIDOC Week celebrations, bringing together students, staff, Elders, parents, agencies, and the wider community. This year's events were filled with cultural pride, learning, and celebration, creating a week that will be remembered by all who attended.

Throughout the week, students engaged in a variety of activities that highlighted Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, cultures, and perspectives. From storytelling and art, to dancing, singing, kup murri feasts, On Country experiences, and the ever-popular NAIDOC Cup football match, each day provided opportunities for students to connect with culture and celebrate identity in meaningful ways.

These celebrations would not have been possible without the generous contributions of our Elders, parents, agencies, and community members. Your time, guidance, knowledge, and support ensured that our students experienced learning that was both authentic and deeply respectful of the traditions of this area.

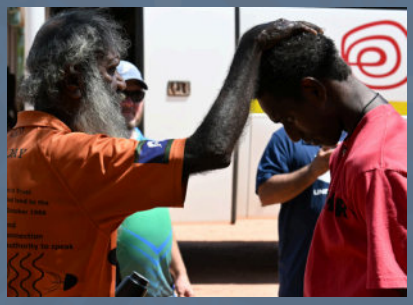

Western Cape College sincerely thanks everyone who came together to make NAIDOC Week 2025 a success. Your involvement not only strengthens the bonds between school and community, but also inspires our students to walk proudly in their amazing culture.

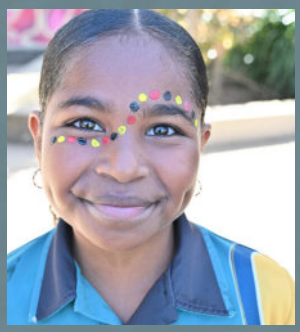

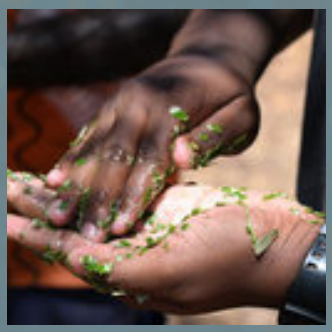

STRENGTH,
VISION &

STAFF SPOTLIGHT: A LITTLE FLASHBACK WITH NAOMI LEVI

This week, we take a moment to celebrate one of our longest-serving employees — Naomi Levi, a woman whose commitment, compassion, and dedication have touched the hearts of many throughout Napranum.
Naomi has proudly served with the Napranum Aboriginal Shire Council (NASC) for an incredible 26 years. Her journey began at just 18 years old, starting out at Napranum Aged Care as a Support Worker, before taking on roles as a Kitchen Hand and Administration Officer. Today, she continues her service as the NDIS RCC Coordinator, a role she has carried out with passion and professionalism for more than four years.

Originally from Townsville, QLD, Naomi moved to the Cape in the 1990s, where she found her sense of belonging and community. A proud Bindal woman, Naomi has grown to become a familiar and trusted face in both Napranum and Weipa, known for her reliability, and tireless work ethic. Over the decades, she has built lasting relationships with Elders, colleagues, and families who admire her for her quiet strength and deep care for others.

Reaching 26 years of service is an incredible milestone — one that reflects not just time, but devotion, resilience, and heart. Working in aged care takes a special kind of person — someone with empathy, patience, and the ability to give selflessly every single day. Naomi has consistently shown these qualities, supporting Elders with dignity and respect, and going above and beyond to ensure their needs are met with love and compassion.

Her journey is a reminder that true community service isn't just about doing a job — it's about living your purpose. Naomi embodies what it means to serve with passion and pride. She carries with her a wealth of knowledge and experience in the aged care sector and continues to mentor others to find their own pathways in community work.

As a mother of five and great-grandmother, Naomi's nurturing spirit extends far beyond the workplace. She has built a life grounded in family, culture, and connection, and continues to be a shining example of what it means to lead with heart.

Naomi's legacy within NASC and the Napranum community is one of strength, service, and care. Her 26 years stand as a testament to the power of commitment and the difference one person can make when they give so much of themselves for the wellbeing of others.

We celebrate Naomi not only for her years of service but for the kindness, wisdom, and leadership she brings to Council every single day.

Well done Naomi. Council would like to thank you for the 26 years of service and wish you many more years to come.

Congratulations on 26 years of hard work and dedication! Your journey hasn't been easy, but the passion and love for what you do has never changed. It is a testament to your strength and your commitment. We are all so proud of you! Keep up the great work!

– Naomi's daughter Chelsea & family
